1. Local conclusion for the GH fourplex

The central current local obligation is Overland Park rental licensing and inspection under Municipal Code Chapter 5.75. The current master fee schedule lists $120 billed biennially for a rental dwelling under common ownership and $120 per building for an apartment complex. The license is not a substitute for construction permits, state taxes, property-tax filings, or a valid lease.

Immediate verification

Confirm the active rental license shows the correct fourplex address and legal owner, capture its effective/renewal dates, and store the issued license and fee receipt. If ownership changed, Chapter 5.75 says the license is not transferable.

2. Overland Park Chapter 5.75 map

Section	Subject	Accounting/compliance evidence

5.75.110	Inspection program	Preserve inspection reports, access notices, corrections, invoices, and closure
5.75.120	Notices	Use legal notice address and archive delivery
5.75.130	Administrative appeal	Calendar stated appeal deadline from the actual notice
5.75.140	Unlawful operation	Do not operate unlicensed; legal review if license lapse occurs
5.75.150	Nonexclusive remedies	City remedies can coexist with other enforcement

3. Fee and accounting treatment

Fee	Current schedule	Book/tax control
Rental license	$120 billed biennially for rental dwelling under common ownership; apartment complex $120 per building	Expense over service period if material under book policy; tax deduction timing follows method; retain license/receipt
Building permit <= $5,000 work	$30 permit + $30 plan review = $60 under current schedule	Capitalize if directly attributable to capital improvement; otherwise analyze purpose
Building permit $5,001-$19,000 work	$50 permit + $30 plan review = $80 under current schedule	Capitalize if directly attributable to capital improvement; otherwise analyze purpose
Building permit > $19,000	Current multiplier 0.0050 on defined valuation	Tie permit value/fee to project asset schedule
Late permit	Applicable permit fee doubled	Segregate penalty/late component; do not automatically capitalize a punitive amount
Reinspection	$50 under current schedule	Classify by cause/project; preserve correction and closure

The master fee schedule is effective August 1, 2025 and was the current official schedule identified through the cover date. City fees can change; verify the live schedule before payment or budgeting.

4. General business license and sales tax

Overland Park's business-license page lists specific regulated activities and does not identify a general occupational license for ordinary long-term residential landlords. That does not remove the separate Chapter 5.75 rental license. Long-term apartment rent is not Kansas sales-taxable. Kansas KDOR administers local sales taxes on taxable goods/services; unusual separately sold services or taxable personal-property transactions require state/local rate review.

5. Johnson County real-property tax workflow

- Real property is valued as of January 1. Multifamily residential classification is generally assessed at 11.5% under Kansas law.
- The deadline to appeal the appraised value is generally 30 days after the value notice is mailed. Calendar the actual notice date and preserve comparable/property-condition evidence.
- Taxes may be paid in full by December 20 or half by December 20 and half by May 10 of the following year. Weekend/holiday adjustments can change the calendar date.
- When the lender pays through escrow, reconcile the lender statement to the county bill and receipt. Do not expense the monthly escrow deposit itself.
- The county estimated-tax notice is informational and not the tax bill; do not post it as a payable or payment.

6. Personal-property workflow

Kansas changed the rendition rule effective January 1, 2025. File an initial personal-property rendition, then file by March 15 only when a required change occurs. Johnson County's page should be read with current K.S.A. 79-306 and the 2026 KDOR guide. Appliances, laundry machines, furniture, tools, and equipment need a real-versus-personal and exemption review; many assets may be exempt, but a mistaken exemption can cause back tax and penalties.

7. Local compliance calendar

Control	Frequency / trigger	Owner evidence
Overland Park rental license	Biennial; immediately on ownership/entity/application change	License, application, $120 fee receipt, building/owner match, renewal calendar
Rental inspection / correction	As noticed / program cycle	Inspection report, tenant access notice, work orders, invoices, photos, reinspection closure
Real-property value notice	Annual mailing	Notice, 30-day appeal decision, evidence package, final value
Real-property tax	Full or first half Dec. 20; second half May 10	Bill, lender escrow statement, county receipt, Zoho reconciliation
Personal-property rendition	Initial; then by March 15 only when required change occurs	Asset list, exemption analysis, filed statement/confirmation, appraiser correspondence
Construction permit	Before covered work	Permit, valuation/plan-review fee, scope, inspections, final approval, capital project link
Short-term lodging	Before offering <= 28-day stays	City/zoning confirmation, KDOR registrations, sales/guest tax rates, platform setup, return calendar

8. Short-term lodging - not currently applicable

Trigger only

Current facts describe long-term apartment leases. If GH offers stays of 28 consecutive days or less, stop using the long-term conclusion and re-scope before listing or collecting money.

Kansas guidance states transient guest tax generally applies when more than two bedrooms are furnished for guest accommodations and the room is rented for 28 consecutive days or less. The official rate table lists Overland Park at 9.00% as of July 1, 2026. Kansas sales tax lodging rules have their own sleeping-room and accommodation tests. City zoning, licensing, platform collection, and return filing must all be verified before a short-term conversion.

9. Local source register

Local webpages and fee schedules are more volatile than statutes. Recheck rental licensing, fees, and county dates annually and whenever the city/county issues a notice.
